

To: HAH
@ Coisack
17/1/1899

From: Charles
Wilson

- Price of fruit
- Goldfields

all by Coisack

Dear Sir.

Perryville

Whiston St

Maney N. S. Wales.

17/1/1899

Just a line redeeming my promise to return papers relating to North West Australian Gold fields &c. which are duly herewith enclosed. Please accept my thanks for same & allow me to extend the sympathy of one who has suffered, but who is now like Lazarus enjoying the delights and interests of a temperate zone where peaches are juicy, cool & cheap say 3 dozen for a tanner or even cheaper if you con-descend to purchase from the itinerant fruit vendor who plays his calling with ardour, entreating you to pay twopence per lb for grapes or persuading you to exchange a threepenny bit for four dozen apples or fourteen luscious full sized bananas, rich are the pleasures of the poor one who suffered but who now receives good things. Trips in steam boats along beautiful shores accompanied by the laughing dark eyed daughters of this cooler clime do make one forget promises made near Shool, but the stirrings of a not altogether shrivelled conscience mummur Aubrey Hall's papers & to twist mouths of watermelon, cool as a refrigerating world & simpler of the picturesque & beautiful the once - was - North Western looks towards the sufferers & smiles the New Year greetings to those who are still inclined to pant o'er Coisack sands.

Yours in cool gut. Charles Wilson.

Percyville

Whistler St

Mauney N. S. Wales.

17/1/189

Aubrey Hall Inye
Cossack

Dear Sir.

Just a line redeeming my promise to return papers relating to Nash West Australian Gold fields &c. which are duly herewith enclosed. Please accept my thanks for same & allow me to extend the sympathy of one who has suffered, but who is now like Lazarus enjoying the delights and interests of a temperate zone where peaches are juicy, cool & cheap say 3 dozen for a tanner or even cheaper if you con-descend to purchase from the itinerant fruit vendor who plays his calling with ardour, entreating you to pay twopence & 6d for grapes or persuading you to exchange a threepenny bit for four dozen apples or fourteen luscious full sized bananas. Rich are the pleasures of the poor one who suffered but who now receives good things. Trips in steam boats along beautiful shores accompanied by the laughing dark eyed daughters of this cooler clime do make one forget promises made near School, but the stirrings of a not altogether shrivelled conscience remind Aubrey Hall's papers & so 'twixt mouthfuls of watermelon, cool as a refrigerating world & glimpses of the picturesque & beautiful the once - was - Nash Western looks towards the sufferers & smiles the New Year greetings to those who are well inclined to part o'er Cossack Sands.

Yours in cool part Charles Wilson.

Green Hall Page
Green

Dear Sir.

I have a line returning my promise to return papers relating to North West American paper mills to you. which are very beautiful indeed. I have accepted my share for home & allow me to state the quantity of one who has suffered but who is now like Rogers enjoying the delights and interests of a temperate zone where the sun is just cool & clear and a day for a farmer or a shepherd of the continent to purchase from the thickest part of the forest who has been excelling with carbon, exhibiting for to pay tobacco & to for paper or purchasing for to exchange a sheepskin for four dozen apples or fourteen luscious free sized bananas, such are the pleasures of the poor one who suffers but who now receives good things. Ships in steam boats about beautiful steamers accompanied by the laughing and singing of his crew climb to make one forget his former mode of life, but the return of a not altogether diminished commerce numerous Green Hall's papers & so forth mountains of watermelons, cool as a refrigerating world & glimpses of the picturesque & beautiful the one - was - North West - the sufferer & banished the new form existing to those who are still inclined to part on bread from in one zone of desolation.

Yours V. S. Wallis

1711 182

Green Hall

Green Hall